ILLINOIS WESLEYAN
UNIVERSITY

Knowledge and Wisdom

Illinois Wesleyan was founded in 1850 by 30 civic and Methodist Church leaders. During its first year, preparatory classes were taught; collegiate studies began in 1851.

Today, the University is an independent, residential liberal arts university, and exclusively undergraduate. Illinois Wesleyan enrolls approximately 1,582 students from 41 states and 27 countries. A highly selective institution, Wesleyan offers over 100 majors, minors and programs in a unique curriculum that combines the liberal arts and sciences with professional schools of art, music, theatre, and nursing.

Illinois Wesleyan has long had a commitment to diversity and inclusion. The Board of Trustees opened the University's enrollment to African Americans in 1867, and in 1880, Gus A. Hill became the institution's first African American graduate. The University's first female student, Hannah I. Shur, earned her degree in 1872. Illinois Wesleyan's first international students, Y. Osawa and K. Tanaka, arrived from Japan in 1889.

Another hallmark of the Illinois Wesleyan experience is the way that its faculty engage students inside and outside of the classroom. This tradition of faculty collaboration and engagement dates back to the institution's earliest days when Civil War veteran, geologist, and explorer John Wesley Powell engaged his students in exploration and fieldwork in the Rocky Mountain region. Powell, who designed the University seal and coined its Knowledge and Wisdom motto, went on to become the director of the U.S. Geological Survey and later the first director of the Smithsonian Institution's Bureau of Ethnology.

Presiding at this year's Commencement will be Sheahon Zenger, who was named the University's 21st president in 2024. Graduates of the Class of 2025 will join more than 20,000 Illinois Wesleyan alumni living in all 50 states and 24 countries around the world.

COVER ILLUSTRATION: The Shirk Center was inspired by the Russell and Betty Shirk Foundation of Bloomington. Opened in 1994, it has served as a vital hub for Illinois Wesleyan and the community ever since.

Commencement Speaker

Marc Talluto '94

Marc Talluto is a class of '94 alumnus with a degree in Computer Science, Mathematics and Business. He was a 4-year letterman and captain of the football team, and a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Marc's early career was at Accenture and Deloitte consulting in addition to smaller technology and consulting startups. He eventually founded Fruition Partners, a consulting and system integration company focused on SaaS software company ServiceNow that grew to employ over 300 people and operated on 4 continents. Fruition was awarded a place in the Inc. 500, it was Forbes Magazine #1 inner city company in 2014 and was recognized by Brill Street as a top 50 employer. Fruition was acquired by DXC, where Marc and team doubled its size by globally consolidating and integrating numerous ServiceNow regional partners.

Marc collaborated with private equity firm Sunstone Capital as a board member for Onica, an AWS cloud firm that was acquired by Rackspace in 2019. He then collaborated again to form Thirdera as Chairman of the Board in 2021, where they created the largest ServiceNow system integrator with 6 acquisitions and 1,000 people and were acquired by Cognizant in 2024.

During this same time period, Marc has been a member of the IWU Board of Trustees and a regular contributor to the Illinois Wesleyan student community as our Entrepreneur in Residence, which involves co-teaching a class in entrepreneurship and helping students run a locally owned AirBNB house. He is a major contributor to the Petrick Idea Center, he provides seed funds for student enterprises in new businesses, and grant funding for experiential education.

Marc is currently a board member and investor in numerous software and services companies ranging from aviation automation and restaurants to honey sweetened chocolate and SEC compliance.

But his greatest accomplishment by far in his view is his family, wife Noel and 4 children Lucas, Aniella, Colton and Carter.

America The Beautiful

O beautiful for spacious skies,
For amber waves of grain,
For purple mountain majesties
Above the fruited plain!

America! America!
God shed his grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea.

— Katherine Lee Bates
(1859–1929)

Alma Wesleyana

From hearts aflame our love we pledge to thee,
Where'er we wander over land or sea;
Through time unending loyal we will be —
True to our Alma Mater Wesleyan.

When college days are fully past and gone,
While life endures from twilight dream till dawn,
Grandly thy soul shall with us linger on —
Star-crowned our Alma Mater Wesleyan!

— Professor W. E. Schultz
(1887–1964)

A Letter from the Alumni Association

To The Class of 2025:

Congratulations! Today is Commencement Sunday, and you are officially alumni of Illinois Wesleyan University! This is an occasion to celebrate, and you should be incredibly proud of your achievement. As a 2025 graduate, you have shown remarkable resilience, connection, awareness, and confidence in your ability to succeed. Your fellow alumni are cheering for you! On behalf of the Alumni Association Board of Directors and Titan alumni everywhere, let me be the first to welcome you to the Illinois Wesleyan Alumni Association.

As a new graduate, you are now part of an ever-growing network of Illinois Wesleyan alumni committed to supporting each other, our current and future students, and the university. As you embark on your journey, whether it is into a career, further education, or a service opportunity, the Alumni Association is here to support you. Titan alumni can be found across the United States and the broader world, eager to connect with you and support your continued success. As you leave campus today, know that you'll never leave our Titan Family. I encourage you to leverage the opportunities and resources available through the Alumni Association: connect with an affinity group (Alumni of Color Collective, Council for IWU Women, International Alumni Network, Pride Alumni Community, Young Alumni Committee), volunteer with a regional committee, attend professional and social networking events, come back for Homecoming, and stay connected through social media.

Despite the uncertainty of our current times, I am confident that you have a bright future ahead. Do like Titans before you: identify challenges, seek to serve, and look for opportunities to connect with others' humanity. As you go, I hope that you will stay involved with IWU, whether through your time, talent, or treasure. Such an investment allows us to ensure there's a Wesleyan education available for future Titans.

Congratulations again and welcome to the Illinois Wesleyan Alumni Association!

In Titan Pride,

Derrick L. Tillman-Kelly, PhD '09

President, Alumni Association Board of Directors

Endowed Professorships

There is a long tradition in higher education of appointing faculty members to endowed professorships and chairs. At Illinois Wesleyan this honor is reserved for members of the faculty who have distinguished themselves through exemplary teaching and active engagement of students, outstanding scholarship and/or artistic achievement, and service at the very highest levels of the University. The guiding principle in awarding an endowed professorship or chair is that the individual represents our highest aspirations for faculty members on this campus.

These distinguished professorships are named in honor of the generous donors who made them possible.

The President's Office will sponsor a live band and light refreshments after the ceremony in the Activity Center. Faculty look forward to greeting the graduates and their families at the department locations in the upstairs hallway.

Before the ceremony, light refreshments may be purchased at the Coffee Shoppe (9 AM-12PM) found in the Memorial Center. The University Bookstore located in the Hansen Student Center will also be open from 10 AM-3PM.

Senior marshals for the Commencement ceremony are Professors Carmela Ferradáns and Carolyn Nadeau. Student marshals are Swikrut Dhanorkar '26 and Celina El Ghossaini '26 representing the Junior Class.

Academic Colors and Regalia

Like judicial robes, the garments worn on academic occasions such as today's Commencement derive from the ecclesiastical garb of medieval England. The scholar in the Middle Ages, it must be remembered, was a clerk, and therefore required to wear the clerical gown and tonsure. Certainly, at Oxford and Cambridge, at least in the earliest times, the robes were monastic in origin, although the hood was adapted from a lay garment common to both sexes and all classes.

As early as the fourteenth Century, scholars of certain colleges were required by statute to wear "a decent habit" befitting a clerk and no evidence appears that there was much differentiation among undergraduates, bachelor's, master's, and doctoral robes. All were black, commonly of lamb's wool; most were fur-lined for warmth or at least fur trimmed; and the only mark of difference was in the fuller cut and ankle length of the master's gown. The cope, or closed cape, was also black and followed the style of the everyday mantle of the clergy.

Hoods were worn by all and probably had no academical significance at the beginning. By 1330–40 doctors began to adopt scarlet for their hoods, and by 1500, for their robes, with black retained by the masters of arts and bachelors of divinity. An act of Henry VIII in 1533 ratified the wearing of robes of other colors. Hoods were lined with silk and miniver fur, a custom surviving until the late seventeenth Century, but over the years distinctions were created to identify the various ranks and faculties.

Caps evolved in similar manner. The round velvet cap is still worn today in the full dress of doctors (except doctors in theology); the familiar square, or mortar-board, was copied in the early sixteenth Century from the thirteenth Century cap of the University of Paris. A third style also derives from Paris: a squared cap made by sewing four pieces of cloth with seams producing ridged edges, seen in modern times in the biretta of the clergy and the squared velvet cap of doctors of theology. The "who" and "how" of the wearing of caps produced numerous rulings, restrictions, and change.

The Reformation repressed the brilliant silks, gold lace, costly furs, and extravagant cut of academic robes, and the sober and more uniform styles are for the most part what we see today.

However, the growth of higher education in the United States during the nineteenth Century, when the great land grant colleges and universities were established under the Morrill Act, created a confusion of conflicting styles and colors. The easy identification of one's academic status by means of cut, fabric, and color was no longer true.

In 1893 an intercollegiate commission presented a uniform code for caps, gowns, and hoods to be worn in the United States. The mortarboard caps are the same for doctoral, master's, and baccalaureate degrees, except that doctors' caps may be of velvet and may have a gold tassel. The bachelor's gown is marked by pointed sleeves, reaching to the knee, while the master's sleeve is squared at the ends, and longer. The doctoral robe is fullest, with rounded bell shaped sleeves marked by three velvet stripes.

The greatest symbolism of the academic costume is borne by the hood, which identifies the level of the degree, the faculty (or department of learning) in which it was earned, and the institution which awarded it. The size of the hood, its shape, and the width of its velvet trim identify the level of the degree, with doctoral hoods naturally being the fullest, widest, and longest. Faculty colors tell us the department.

Faculty members in the processional may be wearing light blue for education, copper for economics, drab for business and accountancy, orange for engineering, purple for law, lemon for library science, green for medicine, apricot for nursing, dark blue for philosophy, sage green for physical sciences, cream for social sciences, pink for music, golden yellow for the sciences, brown for the fine arts, and scarlet for theology, among the many available. The colors are mandatory on hoods, but may also be used on the tassels and/or the velvet on doctoral gowns.

The university or college is usually identified by the color of the hood lining. Two colors are frequently used, since there are approximately 2,000 degree-granting institutions in the United States. A few, such as Harvard, Yale, Princeton, and the University of Chicago, use a single color. Illinois Wesleyan's green and white was adopted in 1888.

You will also see some faculty wearing a medallion with green and white ribbon. These are professors who hold endowed professorships, which recognize extraordinary achievement in teaching, scholarly/creative work, and service.

Graduates tassels are designated by the degree they are receiving: Bachelor of Arts (white), Bachelor of Science (gold), Bachelor of Fine Arts (brown), Bachelor of Music and Bachelor of Music Education (pink), and Bachelor of Science in Nursing (apricot)

Jensen Mace

The Jensen Mace was crafted in celebration of the inauguration of President Eric R. Jensen and the Class of 2016. The mace replaces the The Eckley Mace, which was first carried at the 1969 inauguration of Dr. Robert S. Eckley, the 15th president of the University.

Made of bronze for power and endurance and of walnut for organic strength, its cupola represents the bell tower of Old North Hall, Illinois Wesleyan's first building, which was erected in 1856 and demolished in 1967. State Farm Hall now sits on the former site of Old North. The staff of the Mace was made from the walnut of Old North Hall and was used on the Eckley mace. The names of University founders' are engraved on a band surrounding the cupola.

The mace was cast and constructed by Kevin Strandberg, Professor of Art Emeritus.

The University Pineapple

The Commencement Pineapple was first used at the 2009 Commencement Ceremony. It was a gift to the University and President Wilson, the eighteenth president of the University, from the Class of 2008. It serves to remind future classes of the friendships forged over their four-years and the enduring welcome and hospitality that they enjoy as alumni of Illinois Wesleyan University.
